The screenshot shows the FamilySearch website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the following links: Home, Search Records, Index Records, Share, Research Helps, Library (highlighted with a red circle and an arrow), and Help. Below the navigation bar, the main heading reads "Free Family History, Family Tree, and Genealogy Records and Resources from Around the World". Underneath, there is a section titled "Search Records for Your Ancestors" with the subtitle "Online birth, marriage, death, census, church and other indexes." This section contains several search filters: "First and Middle Name(s)" and "Last or Family Name" (both with yellow input fields), "Life Event" (a dropdown menu set to "All"), "Year" (an input field), "Year Range" (a dropdown menu), "Country" (a dropdown menu set to "All Countries"), and a "Search" button. To the right of the search filters, there is a sidebar titled "Start Your Family History" with a list of links: "Get started with family history", "Research guidance by location", "Forms, maps and guides", "Birth, marriage and death vital records", "Record Search pilot with new U.S. and U.K. census indexes", "U.S., British and Canadian census indexes", and "Free online resources". At the bottom of the page, there are three columns of "What's New" updates: "Help create free public access to U.S. census indexes and more", "Family History Library" (with links to "Monthly Class Schedules" and "African American Family History"), and "Free PAF Family History Software" (with a link to "Personal Ancestral File (PAF) is a free genealogy").
